Child care classrooms/homes that received technical assistance to improve/maintain their quality: 1,274
Child care professionals who received training and professional development: 3,919

Service Highlights:

Teacher after attending a professional development event: "I will use the information I learned to better understand the needs and development of the children in my classroom so I can teach them more effectively."

Teacher after receiving technical assistance services: "The information I learned through this support is invaluable. I had no idea what I was capable of and now have the confidence to continue and grow from this experience. Thank you!"

Teacher after receiving technical assistance services: "I have learned that asking children open-ended questions lets them give me ideas on what they like and helps me to plan activities based on their interest."

Child care resource and referral (CCR&R) services across North Carolina are funded by a variety of sources including the North Carolina Division of Child Development and Early Education, local Smart Start organizations, child care, and other businesses, community agencies and private philanthropy (individual, family, corporate and community).
